Safety In Motion has developed an efficient process to both prepare and certify trainer candidates in a single day! The SIM Trainer Seminar introduces the training conventions used in all of our training modules. These conventions eliminate the need for manuals traditionally used to develop subject matter experts. And, there is no requirement for a trainer to be certified to teach different module topics. The same skill set applies to all of our training modules!

Think about the last time you had to learn something new. How much memorization or study was required? Our proprietary process for developing trainers has been proven to be effective tens of thousands of times. All technical information is delivered through multimedia so your trainers do not need to be experts in biomechanics and physiology. We do that heavy lifting for you! In the 8-hour trainer seminar, your trainers will learn the following skills.

Step 1 - Experience a 1-hour Safety In Motion® Module as a learner

- Facilitated by a Safety In Motion consultant modeling the key skills

Step 2 - Introduction to the Safety In Motion® Trainer Seminar.

- Navigation of our HTML training files
- Presenting all scripted slides
- Transition between integrated media material and animated content
- Coaching learners during physical demonstrations embedded in all presentations
- Facilitate meaningful conversations with classroom participants
 - * Q & A for all custom application examples depicted in Stressed-Better® photo pairs
 - * Teaching SIM is not a lecture but rather an engaging experience that drives comprehension
 - * Processing SIM Module handout cards for classroom participants

Step 3 - Final Certification

- 20-question online Knowledge Refresher to demonstrate comprehension of SIM techniques, options, and applications

Your subject matter experts are not required to re-certify but are encouraged to annually take an online Knowledge Refresher which is available to them in our web portal. For more information on scaling this process across a larger organization or geographic region, please contact Safety In Motion to discuss which of our strategies would work best for your organization.
